Your best source for books!

"My new obsession! I go to the major bookstores, browse and make a list. As soon as I get home, I head to PBS to see if any of the titles I want are available. I can count on finding a few that I really want to read but am too cheap to buy! Thanks for feeding my book habit without emptying my wallet!"

"This site is amazing. I love the fact that I can exchange all of the books that I have read (and will probably never read again) for new books. I am an avid reader and have saved so much money with this site. You guys have done a fantastic job and I will recomend this site to everyone that I know."

"I am absolutely hooked on paperbackswap.com. I can't believe how many of my books have been requested by other members and how quickly I have banked credits to get new books. My 'to be read' stack is now full of new books that I am looking forward to reading. The wish list function is great, and over the weeks books that I am looking for keep showing up as available for me to request. I am also very pleased to know that my much beloved books are going out to other people who will now enjoy them. What a great website - thank you!"
